

DIWALI FACT CARDS

Cut out the cards and read one fact each day. Color the pictures!

1 Diwali is the Festival of Lights. It is celebrated by millions of people in India and around the world. 	2 Diwali comes in October or November, on the darkest night of the month, when there is a new moon. 	3 A diya is a small clay lamp with a cotton wick. Families light rows of diyas at doors and windows.
4 A rangoli is a colorful floor pattern made with colored powder, rice or flower petals to welcome guests. 	5 People share sweets called mithai, like round ladoos, barfi and swirly jalebi. 	6 An akash kandil is a paper lantern, often shaped like a star, hung outside the home.
7 Orange and yellow marigolds are strung into garlands and torans to decorate doorways. 	8 Families clean and decorate their homes, wear new clothes, give gifts and visit friends. 	9 Many families watch fireworks or light sparklers together on Diwali night. 